INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

February 27, 2003

To the Board of Directors of Clarion American Securities, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of Clarion American Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2002 and December 31, 2001 and the related statements of operations and retained earnings (accumulated deficit), statements of stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Clarion American Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2002 and December 31, 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 13 to the financial statements, the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon management's ability to successfully negotiate payment terms with taxing authorities regarding delinquent payroll taxes, and obtaining the necessary licensing to permit the sale of common stock held for net capital purposes. These conditions raise doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2002 AND DECEMBER 31, 2001

Note 1 - Nature of Operations

Clarion American Securities, Inc. introduces and forwards, as a broker, all transactions and accounts of customers to another broker or dealer who carries such accounts on a fully disclosed basis. Clarion American Securities, Inc. promptly forwards all funds received from customers in connection with its activities as a broker.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Statement Preparation

The company's accounts are maintained on the accrual basis of accounting. As such, revenues are recognized when earned, and expenses and related liabilities are recorded in the period incurred.

Revenues from preliminary due diligence and market feasibility studies are recorded when received. These revenues are mutually agreed to be non-accountable and nonrefundable.

Revenues from underwriting contracts are recognized using the percentage of completion method, measured by costs and services incurred or performed as of the date of financial statements, over total costs and services expected to be incurred. Any revenues associated with direct costs, such as legal expenses, are recorded in the period such expenses are incurred.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the accompanying financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that directly affect the results of reported assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Fixed Assets and Related Depreciation

Office equipment, furniture, and fixtures are recorded at cost. Depreciation is calculated using accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Maintenance and repairs are charged to operations; betterments are capitalized. The cost of fixed assets sold or otherwise disposed of and the related accumulated depreciation accounts, and any resulting gain or loss is credited or charged to income.

Financial Instruments

Other than securities described below, the company has no financial instruments for which the carrying value materially differs from fair value.

Security Valuation

Investments in securities traded on a national securities exchange (or reported on NASDAQ national market) are stated at the last reported sales price on the day of valuation. The first-in, first-out method is used to determine the cost of each security at the time of sale. These securities are subject to off balance sheet risk due to the fact that market values are unpredictable.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Cont'd)

Income Taxes

Income tax expense is based on pre-tax financial statement income with an appropriate deferred tax provision to provide for the tax effect of temporary timing differences between financial statement income and federal taxable income. The temporary timing differences relate to net operating loss carryforwards and contribution carryforwards and unrealized gains and losses on securities.

Note 3 – Investment in Common Stock

The Investment in common stock is available for sale with an identified cost of $39,585. Unrealized gains and losses are recorded as comprehensive income in the statement of stockholders equity. Realized gains and losses are included in income in the period they are realized. The cost, unrealized gains (losses), and deferred income liability related to the investment in common stock as of December 31, 2002 and December 31, 2001 are as follows:

	 Decem	ber 3

Note 6 - Income Taxes (Cont'd)

* IRS Code Section 382 limits both the amount of net operating loss carryforwards and the year of expiration when there are changes in ownership (See Also Note 7 below). As a result, the year of expiration for the net operating losses is 5 years from the date of change in ownership. Based on the purchase price by the new owner, the amount of the Company's net operating loss available for carryforward is limited to the unrealized built-in gain at the time of change of ownership, but it can only be utilized when the related property (in this case, common stock) is sold.

Note 7 - Stockholders' Equity and Change in Ownership

In 1992, the Company issued 100 shares of no-par value common stock to its sole shareholder, Thomas S. Culver for $16,240 at $162.40 per share. On February 29, 2000 all 100 shares were sold by the sole shareholder to Michael A Nath (individual) and Chiron Capital Corporation (Wisconson corporation) as tenants-in-common. Chiron Capital Corporation is a passive investor that has appointed Michael A Nath to act as agent and fiduciary for Chiron Capital Corporation with respect to all matters involving Clarion American Securities, Inc. The purchase price of the stock was $100, or $1.00 per share. As of December 31, 2002 and December 31, 2001, there were 8,000 shares of common stock authorized, and 100 shares of common stock issued and outstanding.

Note 8 - Net Capital Requirements

Clarion American Securities, Inc. introduces and forwards as a broker all transactions and accounts of customers to another broker or dealer who carries such accounts on a fully disclosed basis. Clarion American Securities, Inc. promptly forwards all funds received from customers in connection with its activities as a broker. Brokers who do not generally carry customers' accounts have to maintain net capital of not less than $5,000 in accordance with Section 15c3-1 of the Securities and Exchange Commission Rules (SEC Rules).

As of December 31, 2002, and December 31, 2001, Clarion American Securities, Inc.'s excess net capital was $9,259 and $58,782, respectively.

The fact that Clarion American Securities, Inc. clears all customer transactions through another broker-dealer on a fully disclosed basis exempts the Corporation from having to provide information relating to the possession or control requirements in accordance with Section 15c3-3 of the SEC Rules.

Note 9 - Operating Lease

Rent

For the years ended December 31, 2002 and December 31, 2001, Clarion American Securities, Inc. used office space at the home of the principal shareholder. For the year ended December 31, 2002, rent amounted to $3,560. For the year ended December 31, 2001, rent amounted to $2,075.

There are no future minimum lease payments under operating leases with initial noncancelable lease terms of one year or more.

Note 10 - Contingent Liabilities

The Company was not involved in any litigation as defendant or plaintiff, which would materially change the company's financial position or results of operations.

See also Note 7 for information on change in ownership as of February 29, 2000.

Note 11 - Additional Cash Flow Disclosures

Cash outlays for interest expense amounted to $405 for the year ended December 31, 2002 and $0 for the year ended December 31, 2001.

Cash outlays (net refunds) by Clarion American Securities, Inc. for income taxes for the years ended December 31, 2002 and December 31, 2001 consisted of the following:

	Year Ended December 31
Description:		2002		2001
Prior year's tax liability - Federal	$	-	$	134
- State		· _		77
Current year estimates - Federal		-		100
- State		-		40
Cash outlay (net refund)	$	•	$	351

Note 12 - Risk Management

The company is exposed to various risks of loss related to torts; theft of damage to the destruction of assets; errors and omissions and natural disasters for which the company carries commercial insurance. There has been no significant reduction in coverage from the prior year, and settlements have not exceeded coverage in the past three years.

Note 13 – Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon management's ability to successfully negotiate payment terms with taxing authorities regarding delinquent payroll taxes, and obtaining the necessary licensing to permit the sale of common stock held for net capital purposes. These conditions raise doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

To the Board of Directors of Clarion American Securities, Inc.

Subject: Internal Accounting Control

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Clarion American Securities, Inc., we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control and its operation that we consider to be reportable conditions under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the organization's ability to initiate, record, process, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the financial statements.

During our audit we noted instances where accounting records could not be located when needed. The causes of the problem appeared to be a lack of a clearly specified system for filing records.

The management of Clarion American Securities, Inc. is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures. The objectives of an internal control structure are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the structure to future periods is subject to risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of the design and operation of policies and procedures may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, and oversight organizations and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
